Retraction Note

The authors have retracted this Online First abstract. Following concerns raised by the Editorial Board during the post-acceptance editorial review and final processing of the full manuscript, several inconsistencies in the reported performance metrics were identified. Re-evaluation demonstrated that the findings and conclusions are not supported and should no longer be relied upon.

In accordance with the editorial policies of AFMN Biomedicine and the principles of the Committee on Publication Ethics (COPE), the published abstract is retracted to maintain the integrity of the scientific record. As the full manuscript was not published, it has been withdrawn from the publication process. This notice serves solely to correct the scientific record. All authors agree to this retraction.
